

Casino Monte Carlo Trip Giveaway Privacy Notice

Who is responsible for your personal data?

Unlimit EU Ltd, Georgiou Griva Digeni 125, 3101, Limassol, Cyprus (the Promoter), is responsible for the personal data processed in connection with the Casino Monte Carlo Trip Giveaway. You can contact us about this notice or your data-protection rights at dpo@unlimit.com.

What information do we collect?

When you register, we collect your name, surname, work email address, job title and company, together with your entry details. We assign a random entry number to your registration and keep it linked to your entry so that we can administer the draw and identify the person associated with a selected number.

We may also collect information needed to check eligibility, investigate duplicate or invalid entries, and record communications about the giveaway. If your number is selected, we may request information or documents needed to confirm your eligibility and arrange the prize, such as your date of birth, travel preferences, and travel-document details. We will request only the information needed for those purposes.

If you separately opt in to marketing, we will record your choice and any subsequent withdrawal of consent.

Why do we use your information?

We use your information to:

- register and administer your entry;
- check that entries are valid and entrants meet the eligibility requirements, including the one-entry-per-person rule and the exclusion of people connected with the Promoter or its affiliates;
- assign and manage random entry numbers, conduct the random draw from eligible entries, and identify and contact the person whose number is selected;
- verify the selected winner and, if necessary, select an alternative winner;
- consult with the winner about travel dates and arrange and provide the prize;
- address fraud, technical issues, enquiries, complaints or disputes, and comply with applicable legal obligations.

We may use company and job title when investigating possible duplicate entries or a potential connection with the Promoter or its affiliates. If you separately consent to marketing, we may also use those details to tailor the business-related communications we send you.

What are our legal bases?

Processing	Legal basis
Registering and administering entries, conducting the draw, contacting and verifying the selected winner, and arranging the prize	Necessary to perform the giveaway terms or take steps at your request before entry
Meeting applicable legal obligations	Compliance with a legal obligation
Investigating fraud or invalid entries, maintaining the security and fairness of the giveaway, and handling disputes or legal claims	Our legitimate interests in running the giveaway fairly and securely and protecting our legal position, where those interests are not overridden by your rights and freedoms
Sending marketing communications and using your company and job title to tailor them	Your separate, optional consent

You can decline marketing consent and still enter the giveaway. You can withdraw marketing consent at any time without affecting your entry.

Do you have to provide the information?

Name, surname, work email address, job title and company are required to register. If you do not provide them, we cannot accept your entry. If you are selected as the winner, we may be unable to confirm your eligibility or provide the prize unless you provide the additional information reasonably needed for those purposes.

How does the random-number draw work?

A random number is assigned to each registration. Only eligible, valid entries are included in the draw. A number is selected at random, and we use the entry record linked to that number to identify and contact the selected entrant. Selection remains subject to eligibility verification. If the selected entrant is ineligible, does not respond within the period stated in the terms, or cannot accept the prize, we may select an alternative winner.

The random number is an entry identifier, not anonymous data, because we can link it to an entrant. We do not use job title, company or marketing preferences to weight the draw.

Who may receive your information?

We may share information where necessary with providers that host or support the Landing Page, manage entries or the draw, provide IT and communications services, or help arrange the prize. If you win, relevant information may be shared with travel, accommodation and casino providers as needed to make bookings or facilitate the prize. We may also share information with professional advisers or authorities where necessary or required by law.

Where a provider processes personal data on our behalf, we require appropriate data-protection and confidentiality safeguards. Some prize providers may process information under their own privacy notices.

Will your information be transferred outside the European Economic Area?

Some service providers or prize arrangements may involve processing outside the European Economic Area. Where a transfer requires safeguards under applicable data-protection law, we will use an appropriate transfer mechanism and any required supplementary measures. Contact dpo@unlimit.com for information about safeguards relevant to your data.

How long do we keep your information?

We keep entry records, including assigned numbers and their links to entrants, for the duration of the giveaway and for a period afterward that is reasonably necessary to address enquiries, complaints, disputes or legal requirements. We keep winner and prize-arrangement records for as long as needed for those purposes and applicable accounting, tax or other legal obligations. We then delete or anonymise the information.

If you opt in to marketing, we keep the information used for that purpose until you withdraw consent or we no longer need it, subject to any limited record we need to retain to honour your choice.

What are your rights?

Subject to applicable law, you may request access to your personal data, correction of inaccurate data, erasure, restriction of processing. You may object to processing based on our legitimate interests. Where we rely on consent, you may withdraw it at any time; withdrawal does not affect processing carried out before then.

To exercise your rights, contact dpo@unlimit.com. You may also lodge a complaint with the competent data-protection supervisory authority.
